The fisheries workshop offers current research and information related to the status of the Lake St. Clair fishery.

Michigan Sea Grant and Michigan State University Extension, in partnership with the Department of Natural Resources Fisheries Division, will be hosting an evening regional workshop dedicated to Lake St. Clair.

The workshop is open to the public, and will provide valuable information for anglers, charter captains, resource professionals, and other community members interested in attending.

The workshop will include three presentations:

Harmful Algal Blooms

Timothy Davis, Ph.D.
Research Scientist
NOAA Great Lakes Environmental Research Lab (GLERL)

Fish Response to Habitat Restoration in the St. Clair and Detroit Rivers

Robin DeBruyne, Ph.D.
Fisheries Researcher
USGS Great Lakes Science Center and University of Toledo

Lake St. Clair Fishery Status Update

Todd Wills and Jan-Michael Hessenauer
Fisheries Research Biologists
MIDNR Lake St. Clair Fisheries Research Station

You are invited to participate!
